Hubert and myself from the beginning.
Unlike most of his profession, the doctor has always been a radical, and even the wealth that has come in upon him of late years has left him quite as much of a radical, at least in theory, as ever before. Indeed the old doctor is not very inconsistent in practice, for he has educated his only daughter, Cornelia, to his own pro-fession, and I believe she took her M. D. with honors, though she has lately spoiled her prospects. But socially he has become a little more aristocratic, seeking an exclusive association with his wealthy neighbors. And this does not look very well in one who, when he was poor, was particularly bitter on "a purse proud aristocracy." I suppose Hubert felt this. Certainly I did, and therefore I enjoyed the tion that he repeated to me all the

It seems that my friend Hubert had been away at the seminary for three years, and that having at last conquered in his great battle against poverty, and having gained an education in spite of difficulties, and having supplied a city church acceptably for some months during the absence of the pastor in Europe, he came back to our native village to rest ou his laurels a few weeks, and decide which of three rather impecunious calls he would accept. When npecunious calls he would accept. When just about to leave he took it into his head for some reason, to "drop in" on old Doctor Hood. It was nine o'clock in the morning, and the doctor's partner was making morning calls while the old gentle man sat in his office to attend to any that might seek his services. This particular morning happened to be an unfortunate one, for there were no ague-shaken patients to be seen, and there was not even a case of minor surgery to relieve the tediousness of the morning office hour. Perhaps it was for this reason, perhaps it was for the sake of once into a sea of vivacious talk. Cornelia, who was in the office, excused herself on the ground that she was cramming for her final examination, and seated herself at a window with her book. "I am afraid I take your time, doctor," aid Hubert.

"O no, I am giving up practice to my partner, Dr. Beck, and shall give it all to im in a year or two."
"To him and Miss Cornelia?" queried Hubert, laughing. For it was currently reported that the young doctor and Cornelia Either because he wished to attract her attention, or for some other reason, Hubert soon managed to turn the conversation to the subject of woman's rights, and the old doctor and the young parson were soon hurling at one another all the staple, and now somewhat stale, arguments about woman's fitness and woman's unfitness for many things At last, perhaps because he was a little concerned, Hubert said:

Now, doctor, there was a queer thing happened to a student in my class in the seminary. I don't suppose, doctor, that you are much interested in a love story, but I would just like to tell you this one, because I think you dare not apply your principles to it in every part. The-ories often fail when practically applied,

"Go on, Hu, go-on; I'd like to hear the story. And as for my principles, they'll bear applying anywhere!" and the old doctor rubbed his hands together con-

"This friend of mine, Henry Gilbert," said Hu, "was, like myself, poor. A long time ago, when he was a boy, the son of a poor widow, the lot on which he lived joined at the back the lot on which lived a Mr. Morton, at that time a thriving merchant, now the principal capitalist in that part of the country. As there was a back gate between the lots, my friend was the constant playmate from earliest child-hood of Jennie Morton. He built her play-houses out of old boards, he molded clay bricks for her use, and curved tiny toys out of pine blocks for her amusement. she spelled to the boat: grew richer, and come to live in greater style, Henry grew more shy. But by all the unspoken language of the eyes the two never failed to make their unchang-

"Henry went to college early. At vaca-tion-time the two met. But the growing difference in their social position were of a different race from his own. Her parents never thought of inviting him to their entertainments. And if they had, a rusty coat and a lack of money to spend on kid gloves would proud. This apparent neglect stung him. It is true that Jennie Morton was all the more kind. But his quick and foolish pride made him fancy that he detected pity in her kindness. And yet all this only made him determined to place himself in a position in which he could ask her hand as her equal. But you do not understand, doctor, as I do, how irresistible is this conviction of duty in regard to the ministry. Under that pressure my the ministry. Under that pressure my friend settled it that he must preach. And now there was before him a good ten years of poverty at least. What should he do "In his extremity he took advice of a a rich girl. She would not be suited to the trials of a minister's life. But finding that Henry was firm in his opinion that this sound general principle did not in the least apply to this particular case, the professor proceeded to touch the tenderest chord in the young man's heart. He told him that it would be ungenerous, and in some sense dishonorable, for him to take a woman delicately brought up into the woman descately brought up into the poverty and trial incident to a minister's life. If you understood, sir, how morbid his sense of honor is, you would not wonder at the impression this suggestion made upon him. To give up the ministry was in his mind to be a traitor to duty and to God. To win her if he cardle are to God. To win her, if he could, was to treat ungenerously her whose happiness was dearer to him a thousand times more than his own. "I hope he did not give her up," said "Yes, he gave her up, in a double spirit of mediaval self-sacrifice. Looking toward the ministry, he surrendered his love as some of the old monks sacrificed ove. ambition, and all other things to conmetimes gave their lives. He gave

Wpandot

County

Republican.

PIETRO CUNEO, Editor and Prop'r.

Office in Caneo's Building, over the Postoffice.

TERMS:-$2.00 per Annum.

NUMBER 12.

the statue. President Grant, Vice-Presi-

Mayor Robert Harkness, of Delavan tree, Edwin H. Clair, George Brown,

Lennon. A large crowd collected at the Cunard dock, who greeted them with enthusiastic cheers. Congressman Wm. Roberts

Reception Committee, and escorted them

Colonel G. J. Young, member of the House of Representatives from Columbiana

The case of Representative Butler, of Tennessee, was called in the Criminal Court, at Washington, D. C., on the 28th, plead not guilty. After the examination

POLITICAL.

The High Court of Impeachment conrened at Raleigh, N. C., on the 23d, and Smith, Edward Conigland, Richard C.

The New Jersey Legislat

has resulted in his acquittal.

the Kansas Legislature.

cers by acclamation.

to be elected in October.

police throughout the State.

on the 24th.

Alexander Caldwell, of Leavenworth

The Mississippi Legislature reassembled

A convention of Sheriffs of Illinois, protective association, the object of which is to bring offenders to justice, recapture

Hon. H. G. Davis, of Mineral County, was nominated for United States Senator

by the Democratic caucus of the West guished Men.

BY THE "FAT CONTRIBUTOR."

My only recoollection of Demosthenes is his attempting to speak a piece at a dis-trict-school exhibition when he was a boy, and breaking down. He was reciting the

"You'd scarce expect one of my age.
To speak in public, on the stage;
If I should chance to fall below

At this point he hesitated, put the cor-of the situation. Cicero, who was a lad at passed. The result is well known; he lost

Alexander the Great and myself were schoolmates. We were brought up little girls together. He used to amuse himself,

I remember, by smashing up all the globes there were in school, and then sit down

"knot for Jo." Smart Aleck came along and cut it the first time trying, with a pat-ganizations I ever knew, and keenly sym-pathized with human woes. I have seen him sit in the ampitheater at Rome and weep bitterly when captives were torn in pieces by wild beasts. It is a base slander to say he fiddled while Rome was burning.

He belonged to a fire-engine company, and I saw him working at the breaks myself.

Some one saw him as he helped to break'er down, and in the excitement of the mo-ment thought he was fiddling, and so re-

I knew Shakspeare as long ago as when perpetually quoting Shakspeare to customers. People used to leer at him for it;

Recollections of Virginia Legislature, on the 26t h.

escaped prisoners, and act as co-operative verdict of not guilty.

McCorkle.

were absent.

trict.

trict

to Sweeney's Hotel, where they had an enthusiastic reception in the evening.

VOLUME XXVI.

UPPER SANDUSKY, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1871.

months over a church, there was no rea-son why he shouldn't go to see his mother again. And once in the village, the sight of the old school house and the old church revived a thousand memories that he had revived a thousand memories that he had been endeavoring to banish. The garden walks, and especially the apple trees, that are the most unchangeable of land marks, revived the old passion with undiminished power. He paced his room at night. He all, that he must proceed with caution. looked out at the new house of his rich. But some time after the lecture began, he nie Morton was already the betrothed wife of a Colonel Pearson, who was her father's partner in business. And indeed Colonel Pearson went in and out at Mr. Morton's gate every evening, and the father was known to favor his suit.

"I her house had been on hie, he would not have been more intent on making his exit. He reached the door, he passed the happiest evening of his life, only to awake to sorrow, for Jennie's father is 'dead set' against the match."

"He has no right to interfere," said the door, whemently "You see I stand by gate every evening, and the father was known to favor his suit.

"Jennie was not engaged to him, however. Three times she had refused him. The fourth time, in deference to her father's wishes, she had consented to 'think about it' for a week. In truth Henry had been home ten days and had not called upon her, and all the hope she had cherished in that direction, and all the weary waiting seemed in vain. When the colonel's week was nearly out she heard that Henry was to leave in two days. In a sort of desperation she determined to accept Colonel Pearson without waiting for the time appointed for her answer. But that gentleman spoiled it all by his own over-confidence.

"He has no right to interfere," said the doctor, vehemently.

"But if I tell the story out, I am afraid you would not," said Hubert.

"Why, isn't it done?"

"I beg your pardon, doctor, for having used a little craft. I had much at stake. I have disguised this story in its details. But it is true, I am the hero—"

The doctor looked quickly towards his daughter. Her head was bent low over her book. Her long hair hung about it like a curtain, shutting out all view of the face. The doctor walked to the other window and looked out. Hubert sat like a mummy. After a minute, Dr. Hood spoke.

"For when he called, after Jennie had determined on this course, he found her so full of kindness that he hardly knew how determined on this course, he found her so full of kindness that he hardly knew how to behave with moderation. And so he fell to flattering her, and flattering himself at the same time that he knew all the ins and outs of a girl's heart, he complimented her on the many offers she had re-

"'And I tell you what,' he proceeded, there are plenty of others that would lay their heads at your feet, if they were only your equals. There's that young parson, Gilbert, I think they call him, that is visiting his mother, in the unpainted and threadbare-looking little house that stands behind this one. I've actually seen that Gilbert, in his rectar water seen and the stands of the sta fellow, in his rusty, musty coat, stop and look after you on the street, and every night, when I go home, he is sitting at the window that looks over this way. The poor fool is in love with you. Only think of it! And I chuckle to myself when I see him, and say, "Don't you wish you could reach so high!" I declare it's funny."

"I declare it's funny."

"In that one speech Colonel Pearson."

"I think," said Hubert, "that you folks who write love stories make a great mistake in stopping at marriage. The honeymoon never truly begins until conjugal affection is enriched by this holy partnership of loving hearts in the life of a child. fellow, in his rusty, musty coat, stop and crib, and bent over her till that same long dashed his chances to pieces. He could not account for the sudden return of winter in Jennie Morton's manner. And all his sunshine was powerless to dispel it, or to "Hope," said the mother. "Hope Valentine," added the father, old acquaintance, that he gave Hubert a not account for the sudden return of winter in Jennie Morton's manner. And all his most cordial reception, and launched at > courage of Henry Gilbert's heart, and something of the manliness of his motives. All night long she watched the light burning in the room in the widow's house: and all night she debated the matter until her head ached. She could reach but one conclusion: Henry was to leave the day after to-morrow. If any communication should ever be opened between them, she must begin it. It was as if she had seen him drifting away from her forever, and must throw him a rope. I think even such woman's right man as yourself would hardly justify her, however, in taking any step of the kind"

"I certainly should," said the doctor.
"But she could not find a way—she had no rope to throw. Again the colonel, meaning to do anything else but that, opened the way. At the breakfast-table the next morning she received from him a magnificent valentine, All at once she saw her method. It was St. Valentine's day. The rope was in her hand. Excus-ing herself from breakfast she hastened to

"To send a valentine to the faithful lover was the uppermost thought. But how? She dare not write her name, for, after all, she might be mistaken in counting on his love, or she might offend his prejudices or his pride by so direct an approach. She went fumbling in a drawer for stationery. She drew out a little pine boat that Henry had whittled for her many years before. He had named it 'Hope,' but the combined wisdom of the little boy and girl could not succeed in spelling the name correctly. And here was the little old boat that he had given, saying often afterward that it was the boat they two were going to sail in some day. The misspelt name had been the subject of many a laugh between them. Now—but I mustn't be sentimental. "It did not take Jennie long to draw an exact likeness of the little craft. And that there might be no mistake about it, she spelled the name as it was on the side "HOAP.

"There was not another word in the valentine. Scaling it up, she hurried out with it, and dropped it in the post-office. No merchant, sending all his fortune to sea in one frail bark, ever watched the departure and trembled for the result of ven-ture as she did. Spain did not gray half so fervently when the invincible Armada sailed. It was an unuttered prayer -an unutterable prayer. For heart and hope were the lading of the little picture-boat that sailed out that day, with no other wind but her wishes in its sails. "She sat down at her window until she saw Henry Gilbert pass the next street on his morning walk to the post-office. Three minutes after, he went home, evidently in a great state of excitement, with her valentine open in his hand. After a while he went back again toward the postoffice, and returned. Had he taken a in their hands. And they actually seemed to think them funny! She had a reply. It did not take her long to find her room and to open it. There was another picfavorite theological professor. The professor advised him not to seek the hand of fessor advised him not to seek the hand of added: 'Your boat is the pleasantest, but added: 'Your boat is the pleasantest, but added: 'Your boat is the pleasantest, out understanding that there was no vacant place upon it, I have been obliged to take passage on this.' Slowly the meaning forced itself upon her. Henry had fears that capacity of the youth best its him for the youth best its upon her. Henry had fears that she whom he thought engaged was co-quetting with him. I think, doctor, you will hardly justify her in proceeding further with the correspondence?"

"Why not? Hasn't a woman as much ther with the correspondence?"

"Why not? Hasn't a woman as much right to make herself understood in such such as the success of through with a decent success, but it is by hard effort and with an abiding dissatisfaction. We are inclined to think that the censured."

"Well, you know, I'm conservative. doctor, but I'm glad you're consistent. She did send another valentine. I am afraid she strained this figure of speech about the boat. But when everything in the world depends on one metaphor, it will not do to place is vacant. "And quite late in the afternoon, the And quite later in the atternoon, the science. Looking at her happiness, he secrificed his hopes in a more than knight- cant for the vacant place, if you will take ly devotion to her welfare. The knights ture in the village, and my friend went, not to hear Gough, but to see Miss Jennie Morton at a distance. Somehow, in the stupefaction of revived hope, he had not looked out at the new house of his rich neighbor. He chafed under the restraint of his vow not to think again of Jennie Morton. It was the old story of the monk who thinks the world subdued, but who finds it all at once about to assume the mastery of him. I do not know how the struggle might have ended, but it was all at once stopped from without.

"There reached him a rumor that Jennie Morton was already the betrothed wife on thave been more intent on making his

She lifted a face that was aflame. Tears glistened in her eyes, and I doubt not there was a prayer in her heart.

You are a brave girl. I had other plans. You have a right to choose for yourself. God bless you both. But it's a great pity Hu is not a lawyer. He pleads So saying, he put on his hat and funny.'

"In that one speech Colonel Pearson The climax of a love story is not the wedding. It is the baby!"

sunshine was powerless to dispel it, or to bring back the least approach of spring, "Poor Jennie! You can imagine, doctor, how she paced the floor all that night. She however to the sum of the sum o

"You've been telling. You think that love story is interesting to others because enjoy it so much!"-Scribner you en Monthly.

Exchange in an Omnibus.

THE New York Mail tells of a Brooklyn lady who took passage on a Broadway omnibus with only $5 in her purse, and who was particularly struck by the ap-pearance of a fellow passenger, who was dressed in the most magnificent style and wore on one of his fingers a superbliamond. After getting out of the omnibus she found her pocket had been picked.

The editor goes on to say:

She wondered, all the way there, who had picked her pocket, and blamed, alternately, all the honest people who had ridden with her in the stage; but she never for a moment harbored a suspicion of the gentleman of the rings and things. She got home and told her neighbors, who consoled her in the usual neighboriv way, by "hoping it would be a warning to her;" "she was very lucky to get off so easy," etc., etc. She told her husband, who laughed at her till she cried, she says, then kissed her and gave her $10 to buy a new purse.

A friend dropped in after dinner, she had to tell the story all over again. Strange to say, he suspected the gentleman with

"Was he in when you paid your fare?" "He was." "Could he have seen your purse, and where you put it?"
"Why, of course he could?"

"Did he get up and then sit down again the second time beside you?." "Where's your pocket?"
"Why, here," said the lady plunging or nervous fingers (for she was excited the cross-questioning) deep into the "right here. And bless me!" said she, as she withdrew her hand again, "as I'm a living woman, but here's the ring!"

True enough. The exquisite, in abstracting the purse, had left the solitaire A Broadway jeweler values it at $1,500.

The Education of Boys.

A WRITER in the Providence (R. I.) Journal offers well-considered advice, as Each child has a natural aptitude for, and gratification in, some especial study, employment or pursuit. One takes to music, another to mathematics; some boy turn spontaneously to mercantile under-takings, others are born book-worms; it is the duty of parents to acquaint themselves with, and direct these inherent tastes. Few people can do many things well, but almost all, with the proper training, could perform successfully, if not with marked auperiori-"Jennie again sought the office. There were people all around with those hideous things that they call comic valentines open in their hands. And they call the statement of any particular valuable faculty. ty, in some one line of life. Superadded

Excellent are our common and high schools, and important as may be a col-legiate education, there is the further neces-sity—if the highest attainable point is to be reached—that the dedication of the life be made to that calling which the natural capacity of the youth best fits him for. They go on year after year, like an axle that is always either rubbing in its bearings, or hot from friction. They may rub right to make herself understood in such a matter as a man? And when the social advantages are on her side, the burden of making the advances often falls upon her. Many women do it, indirectly, and are not youngster desires to begin where his father left off, and most are likely to leave off where their father began-in poverty. -The Rome (Ga.) Commercial made its appearance, the other morning, with a hole in it. The editor explained it in the be fastidious. Jennie drew again the lext issue, by stating that he had discovirule boat with misspelt name. And this time she added five words: 'The master's tion had be en worked off, and had clipped tion had be en worked off, and had clipped it out of all the papers before sending

"Good," cried the doctor; "I always dwellings, 690 for those of the third class

Weekly News Summary.

CONGRESSIONAL. In the Senate, on the 23d, Mr. Stearns, elected by the Legislature of Minnesota for the unexpired term of Mr. Norton, deceased, presented himself and took the oath of office. ...Joint resolutions by the Indiana Legislature instructing the Senators of that State to vote against the annexation of Dominica, were presented, ordered printed, and laid on the table... Communications and Indiana Legislatures for the improvement of the mavigation of Wabash River... Resolutions and Indiana Legislatures for the improvement of the mavigation of Wabash River... Resolutions from the St. Louis Board of Trade for deepening the channel at the mouth of the Mississippi River were presented and referred... A report was made from the Judiciary Committee, upon the Georgia Senatorial question, accompanied by a resolution declaring Joshua Hill to have been elected; the minority report reviews the claims of the various Senatorial applicants, and concludes with a resolution to admit Farrow and Whitely, and a resolution was also offered declaring Hill and Miller legally elected... A bill was introduced to confirm the sales of the Shawnee Indian lands in Kansas, made under the direction, and with the approval, of the Secretary of the Interior... The bill to increase pensions of disabled soldlers and sallors, and the widows and children of deceased soldlers and sallors, increasing all pensions 2 per cent, for five years from March 4, 1871, was takenjup and passed... A resolution was adopted granting the investigation committee on the alleged Sonthern outrages leave to report, from time to time, to suit their convenience, and sit during the sosions of the Senate... The bill to relieve Congressmen from importunity, and preserve the independence of the departments of the Government, was further considered... Executive session and adjournment. elected by the Legislature of Minnesota for the

In the House, on the 23d, bills and res utions were introduced and referred-for a com mission to determine the claims and damages to American commerce by Confederate privateers; resolutions of the Indiana Legislature, asking for the improvement of the navigation of the Wabash River, and on the subject of the annexation of San Domingo; to anthorize the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River at Booneville; to reduce the rates on correspondence by telegraph, and connect the telegraph with the postal service; for the construction of wagon roads and bridges in Dakota; granting lands for railroad purposes in Montana and Wyoming; granting 1,500,000 acres of public lands for common schools in Virginia; granting public lands in North Carolina for common-schools; for the erection of a Post-Office in Raietjah, N. C. ... Memorials were presented—from the Illinois Legislature, for the improvement of the Wabash River; of the St. Louis Board of Trade, for the construction of a ship canal; of the City Council of Covington, Ky., against the completion of the Newport and Cincinnati bridge on the proposed plan, as an obstruction to navigation. ... W. Paine, member elect from Georgia, appeared and took the oath of office. ... A bill was passed to regulate rank in the navy; and a joint resolution was passed for the appointment of a Committee on Fish and the Fisheries on the Coasts and Lakes. ... Adjourned.

In the Senate, on the 24th, the House ission to determine the claims and damages to

In the Senate, on the 24th, the House abstitute for the bill for a Territorial government for the District of Columbia was referred to the Committee on Conference... The House joint resolution allowing merchandise in port and not entered on Dec. 31, 1870, to be admitted under the old tariff, was passed... The House bill relating to telegraphic communication between the United States and foreign countries was reported, with an amendment making it unlafwul for two or more cable companies to consolidate or unite their interests without the consent of the Postmaster General of the United States, and upon such terms as he may determire... The bill to refund to States the interest and discount on their war loans, was reported adversely.

The Vice-President presented the credentials of F. P. Blair. Senator elect from Missouri for the term ending March 4, 1873... A joint resolution was passed, appropriating $1,000 or so much as is necessary to defray the expenses of the select committee to investigate the alleged Southern outrages... A bill was introduced and referred granting land to aid in the construction sent for the District of Columbia was referred to

In the House, on the 24th, bills were induced and referred-in reference to District troduced and referred—in reference to District Courts in Alabama; to amend the act of the 18th of August, 1886, regulating the Diplomatic and Consular service. ... A resolution was reported and adopted in the contested election case from North Carolina, that Nathaniel Boyden, the contestant, was not entitled to a seat, and that Francis E. Shaber, the sitting member, was ... A resolution was adopted authorizing a sub-committee with regard to the kidnapping and compulsory resignation of the three cadets, to proceed to West Point and take testimony ... A substitute for the Senate bill to reimburse the State of Arkaneas for money expended in enrolling, equipping and provisioning militia for the suppression of the rebellion, was agreed to, and the bill was passed ... The credentials of Stephen A. Carker, member elect from the Fifth Congressional District of Georgia, were presented, and he was sworn in ... A Conference Committee was ordered on the bill to create a government for the District of Columbia ... Bills were passed—giving the Chicago & Ohio Southern Railroad Company the right to build across the Wabash River, and declaring it a post road; the Consultar and Diplomatic Appropriation bill ... Bills were reported by the Committee on Commerce and recommitted—in reference to a railroad bridge across the Mississippi River, and to encourage the building of steamships in the United States ... Adjourned.

In the Senate, on the 25th, F. P. Blair, of Missouri, presented his credentials, appeared, courts in Alabama; to amend the act of the 15th Missouri, presented his credentials, appeared and took the oath of office, and was appointed to fill the vacancies in the Committee on Education and Labor... Bills were introduced—to enable the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad to change the northern terminus of the road from Traverse Bay to the Straits of Mackinaw; making a temporary appropriation for the prosecution of the work of improving the Ste. Marie Canal; extending to all Southern states the provisions of the act of July 4, 1864, limiting the jurisdiction of court claims, and also to amend the said act so as to provide for the payment of Southern claims for quartermaster and commissary stores furnished the army... The bill lately introduced in reference to life insurance was reported back adversely from the Judiciary Committee... The credentials of Mr. Wilson, of Massachusetts, re-elected for six years from March next, were read... The bill to repeal the income tax, was considered at length, and the subject was finally laid over... Adjourned.

In the House, on the 25th, the Fortifi-

In the House, on the 25th, the Fortification bill, appropriating $1,827,000, was reported and made the special order for the 31st. Bills were passed—Senate amendment to the House bill declaring the meaning of the act of July 14, 1870, to reduce internal taxation; extending the benefits of the act for the establishment of an asylum for disabled volunteer soldiers and sailors to the disabled volunteer soldiers and sailors to the disabled soldiers of the war of 1812 and the Mexican war; to repeal the proviso in the sixth section of the act of July 27, 1808, relating to pensions; Senate bill to turn over to the Secretary of the Interior for disposal by saie, after appraisment, the United States/military reservations at Forts Lane and Walla Walla, Oregon; Fort Zariah, Kan.; Camp McGarry, Nev.; Fort Summer, New Mexico; Forts Jessup and Sabine, La.; Fort Wayne, Ark.; Fort Collins, Col.; Fort Dakota, in Dakota, and such portion of Fort Bridges, in Wyoming, as is no longer required for military purposes, amended by the House by adding Fort Smith, Ark... The Indian Appropriation bill, appropriating $1,830,400, was considered in Committee of the Whole... Adjourned.

In the Senate, on the 26th, bills were passed—anthorizing the sale of a portion of the In the House, on the 25th, the Fortifi-

In the Senate, on the 26th, bills were passed—anthorizing the sale of a portion of the Fort Leavenworth military reservation to the Kansas Agricultural and Mechanical Association for a fair ground; making a temporary loan of '100,000 for the prosecution of the work on the Sault Ste. Marie Canal and River; the Pension Appropriation bill; to repeal the income tax of December 31, 1809—35 to 25. A bill was reported anthorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River at Booneville... A bill was introduced to enable the united bands of Swan Creek, Black River, Chippewa and Chunze Indians, in Kansas, to dispose of their lands... Adjourned.

In the House, on the 26th, a communication was received and referred from Commissioner tion was received and referred from Commissioner Pleasanton relative to the income tax, which tax he Pleasanton relative to the income tax, which tax he regards as the one above all others most obnoxious to the people, and he renews his recommendation for its entire abolition... A bill was introduced and referred, allowing an additional representation of forty-three in Congress, as follows: New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Texas, Wisconsin, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan, two each; Mssachusetts, New York, Marylaud, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina Alabama, Mississippi, California and Minnesota, one each, and Illinois, four, such additional members to be elected by general tickets.... A bill was passed for the better security of Agricultural College funds... The death of Senator Norton, of Minnesota was announced, and eulogies were protounced on his life and character... The Indian Appropriation bill was further considered in Committee of the Whole... Adjourned.

In the Senate, on the 27th, remonstrances were presented from 1,400 clitzens of Weststrances were presented from 1,400 citizens of West strances were presented from 1,400 citizens of Western Pennsylvania against the interference with the navigation of the Ohio River by the construction of the Newport and Cincinnali bridge... A resolution was adopted appointing Gen. Sherman Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, rice Gen. Delafield resigned... A bill was reported confirming the title of the State of Iowa to the lands granted by the act of July 12, 182; also, a joint resolution to confirm the sale of Shawnee Indian lands in Kansas, made with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior... A bill was introduced to confirm the title of certain lands in the Fort Kearney reservation in Iowa... The Civil Service Reform bill was further debated. Executive session and adjournment to the 35th.

In the House, on the 27th, a bill was in-

In the House, on the 27th, a bill was insometimes gave their lives. He gave more.

"Good," cried the doctor; "I always advectings, 690 for those of the third class and tenement houses. In Philadelphia, free of duty, of animals, especially those imported from the Dominion of Canada for breeding pursuant of the Capitol at graduated and settled himself for nine graduated griving women every liberty in those imported to the third class described to the Gaption of Lincoln took piace on the fluid the same period, permits were is graduated and settled from 300 cans dealer has been reduced from 300 cans from the Dominion of Canada for breeding pursuant from the Gaption of Lincoln took piace on the fluid the same period, permits were is graduated and settled himself for nine graduated and settled himself for nine graduated graduated an

Committee of the Whole and passed.... A resolution was adopted that the Senate bill to repeal so much of the act approved July 14, 1870, entitled an act to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes, as continues the income tax after the 31st day of December, 1889, be returned to that body with the respectful suggestion on the part of the House that section 7 of article 1 of the Constitution vests in the House of Representatives the sole power to originate such measures.... Adjourned.

FOREIGN. On the 19th, King William, of Prussis was proclaimed Emperor of Germany, in the presence of all the German Princes and representatives. A recent dispatch from the Hon. William H. Seward to his family says the party were in excellent health, and he was much stronger and better than when he left home. The party were to sail on the Advices from Paris state that at the neeting of the Council for Defense on the 20th, Gen. Truchu announced that if his opes for assistance from the outside at Boston on the 24th. should be disappointed, it would be his duty to surrender before the Germans destroyed the public buildings and fired the he resigned, but again accepted command after a hot quarrel. Count Bismark, in a note in reply to ules Favre's request for safe conduct to the London Conference, declined to enter into any such negotiation. His reason therefor is that in so doing he would be recognizing the Republic."

A dispatch from Dijon on the 22d says the French on that day repulsed an attack of Prussians along the whole line. The enemy were pursued, and positions held by them at Daix and Hauterville seized, The Garibaldians entered Dijon amid immense enthusiasm. The Prussians in their flight abandoned their wounded.

A telegram from the British Cabinet announces the erection of Jamaica into the principal military and paval stations for the West Indies.

Letters from Paris by balloon state that the Council of Defense on the afternoon of the 21st, after the sortie, accepted the resignation of Trochu, and replaced Admirals Soisset and Laroneriere, Trochu remained Civil Governor. Leffoe was succeeded by Lorain.

A Versailles dispatch of the 25th says Jules Favre is here. He proposes the capitulation of the soldiers and garrison with the honors of war. The terms are not deemed admissible." A dispatch from Dijon on the 23d says the defeat of the Prussians on the 22d was complete. The troops under Ricciotti sian regiment. The French behaved It is stated from London that Napoleon feels confident of the restoration of his dynasty, if not of reascending the throne many will give to France a government, and demand that the French shall abide A London dispatch of the 24th says The Conference has again adjourned for one week. A resolution to confine the the late robbery, was not much short of discussion to the consideration of the himself. At any rate it is stated that Ger-

Longwy, on the Belgian border, which had been besieged for a long time, capituers fourteen miles above Memphis, on the lated on the 25th. Four thousand prisoners and two hundred guns fell into the hands of the Germans.

dopted. The Conference is regarded as a Bismark has been appointed Chancellor of the German Empire. Sir Roderick Murchison has received gence of the safety of Dr. Livingstone. An official dispatch from Versailles, on waves washed her lower deck, sweeping the 24th, says the French loss in the sortic off all who were gathered there. It was of the 19th was 6,000 killed, wounded and believed at Memphis on the 28th that missing: the Germans, all told, only 655, The London Telegraph of the 26th has a lispatch announcing that Garribaldi and In the U.S. District Court, at Richmond, his forces were surrounded by the Prussians, near Dijon.

elegram from Mr. Moran, Charge d'Affairs for having been ejected from the train at at London, on the 29th, announcing that Alexandria, because she, having a firstthe German Ambassador there had been class ticket, refused to go into the colored officially informed that the capitula- people's car. tion of all Paris forts, and an armistice of three weeks by land and sea, was signed at 10 o'clock on the evening of the 28th, at Versailles, by Count Bismark and Jules | mittee, in session at New York, on the Favre. The army of Paris would remain 20th decided to end the investigation of prisoners of war in the city.

The German troops occupied all the forts around Paris on the morning of the Emperor William has sent the following lispatch to the Empress Augusta:

"Vernamilies, Jan. 29, 2 p. m
"Last night an armistice for three weeks was signed. The regulars and Mobiles are to be detained in Paris as prisoners of war. The Nations Guard will undertake the maintenance of order. tained in Paris as prisoners of war. The National Guard will undertake the maintenance of order. We occupy all the forts of Paris. The city remains invested, but will be allowed to revictual as soon as the arms are surrendered. The National Assembly is to be assembled to meet at Bordeaux in a fortnight, All the armies in the field will retain their respective positions, the ground between the opposing lines to be neutral. This is the reward of patriotism, heroism, and great sacrifices. Thank God for this fresh mercy. May peace soon follow.

(Signed.)

WILLELE.

A telegram of the 29th says Emperor William would not enter Paris, but would Crown Prince in command of the Prussians. Paris was being supplied with pro-

Berlin was in a perfect frenzy of excite ment on the 29th, on the reception of positive news of the capitulation of Paris. A Versailles dispatch of the 29th says the terms of lasting peace offered by Bismark are as follows:

1. The cession of the province of Alsace, and that part of the province of Lorraine known as the German Lorraine.

2. A monied indemnity of 1,000,000,000 france.

3 Forty war ships from the French fleet.

4. One of the colonies now held by France, which one cannot be learned. The money indemnity must be guaranteed by municipalities. If this guarantee be refused, the property of each individual will be held until acquiescence is obtained.

It is said that Bismark denies that has ever negotiated for the restoration of the Bonapartes, or that he intends to interfere in the domestic concerns of France.

DOMESTIC.

A Washington dispatch of the 21st says:

A Washington dispatch of the 21st says:

The following nominations were sent to he tended store for the Merchant of Venice and sold the Prints of Denmark by the yard. He was an honest lad with the "An erroneous statement has been published that Commissioner Pleasanton has decided that no stamps are required to be Postmasters—H. J. Brown, Anderson, yard-stick, giving Measure for Measure.

Postmasters—H. J. Brown, Anderson, 'He always wanted to be an actor and was affixed to the renewal of insurance poli- Ind.; J. C. Hannum, Delphi, Ind.; G. L. cies. Such is not the case. Stamps are Williams, Carrollton, Iil.; F. Clenclerim, required to be affixed when such policies Morristown, Ill.; Elizabeth McAllister, I have even seen the King Lear. Shaksfamilies, as more efficient and cheaper than of California silk being suspended over regular troops.

Gov. Safford, of Arizona, in his annual The unveiling of Vinnie Ream's statue

A raid with mounted troops has recently | dent Colfax, General Sherman, Judge Dabeen made in the mountain regions of vis, Committee on Public Buildings, and Tennessee. It resulted in the destruction orators for the occasion, occupied seats on of seven illicit distilleries and about 15,000 | the platform. There was a large audience. gallons of mash. Eleven other stills were Several addresses were delivered, eulogisfound, but as they were not running they tic of Mr. Lincoln, and in congratulation could not be molested. The raid occupied of the success of Miss Ream.

A large meeting was held at Cincinnati on the night of the 23d, to raise funds for Court of the First Wisconsin Judicial the exiled Fenians. Fifteen hundred per- Circuit, in place of Judge Lyon, prosons were present, and a handsome purse The recent suspension of the Suffolk

County Bank, of Sag Harbor, N. Y., has at New York city on the 27th, on the 20th of December for Hong Kong and caused great excitement on Long Island. Many of the depositors are poor people, F. Burke, D. Edward Pomer, W. F. Rounwho are likely to lose largely. The New England Labor Reform League | Patrick Walsh, Peter Mangaur and Patrick commenced its third anniversary meeting

The preliminary report of Prof. Newcomb, U. S. N., of his observation of the greeted them on behalf of the Tammany late eclipse at Gibralter, has been received center of the city. Civil members of the at the Navy Department, in Washington, Council disagreed with the General, and and shows that, notwithstanding some adverse circumstances, he was successful therein. A San Francisco dispatch of the 24th says the rains were believed to be sufficient to secure an abundant wheat crop in California. Farmers were planting as rapidly as possible.

The Supreme Court of Illinois, on the 24th, announced its decision in the case of Bishop Chase et al., cs. Rev. Chas. E. on an indictment for forgery of pension Cheney, of Chicago, reversing the decision | papers. There were six counts in the inin the lower court. A New York dispatch of the 25th says that the President had ordered the immediate discontinuance of the sales of surplus arms and munitions of every kind. Secretary Boutwell was before the Committee of Ways and Means of the House on the 25th, resisting the abolition of the income tax. He represented that the probable revenue from that source would be between thirteen and fourteen millions, while the additional cost of collection would not be half a million. By direction of the President, the headquarters of the department of the South is transferred from Atlanta, Ga., to Louisville, Ky., the latter being the headquarters of General Halleck. The official returns of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington show the decrease in immigration for the year 1870 to be 31,-

The strike among the Pennsylvania coal miners continued on the 27th, with little prospect of an early resumption of work. A gas explosion occurred in the Brooklyn gas works on the 27th, and the engineer, Frederick Anderson, was killed. The loss by the explosion was estimated 24th.

Another severe snow storm prevailed at at 4150.000. It is said that the money stolen from the express company at Albany, N. Y., at $75,000 or $80,000. John Filkins has been question of the treaty of Paris was indicted by the grand jury as the perpetrator of the crime.

The earner W. R. Arthur, from New Orleans for Louisville, exploded her boil-morning of the 28th, tearing away the forward part of the cabin and texas. She then took fire and burned till her bow sunk. The night was intensely dark. After the explosion, most of the passengers rushed down to the lower deck. Many in etter from Africa, giving positive intelli- the confusion jumped into the river and were drowned. When the bow sunk, the eighty-seven lives were lost by the dis-

Va., Kate Cummings, colored, has obtained a verdict of $1,100 damages from the Secretary Fish, at Washington, received a Orange & Alexandria Railroad Company,

PERSONAL. The Methodist Book Concern Comthe charges against Dr. Lanahan, by a vote of 10 to 5. It is now stated that there is no foundation for the report of the resignation of Oliver Ames as President of the Union Pacific Railroad. A banquet was given to Senator-elect Blair at St. Louis, on the night of the 21st. Nearly three hundred persons were present. McKean Buchanan, while acting at the Opera-House at Norfolk, Va., on the night of the 21st, was stricken with paralysis.

He will probably recover. William Barrett, a retired tobacco merchant, aged eighty-four years, and one of the wealthiest citizens of Richmond, Va., was burned to death in that city on the was burned to death in that city on the the Rubicon. He held a good hand, and I return to Berlin on the 31st, leaving the afternoon of the 21st, by his dressing gown told him he had better order it up, but he taking fire while he was in his study. Judge W. P. Chilton, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Freemasons of Alabama, died on the 20th. He was formerly Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court of the State.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate on the 23d: Reuben Elwood, Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Seconters had tried in vain to do it. It was ond District of Illinois; J. E. Marsh, Surveyor of Customs for Kansas City, Mo.; J. S. Botsford, United States Attorney for the ent corn-cutter.

Nero had one of the most sensitive or-Western District of Missouri; Geo. L. Woods, of Oregon, Governor of Utah. Postmasters-James Howard, Mt. Sterling Ky.; C. J Rawling, Wheeling, W. Va.; Henry Massie, Charlottsville, Va.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate on the 24th were: Leroy Tuttle, to be Assistant Treasurer of the United States; Thomas J. McKenna, Superintend-Gold closed in New York on the 28th ent of Indian Affairs in Washington Ter-

Fairfield, Iowa.

he ran away and joined a variety compan He made his debut as first grave-digger

Othello.

Diogenes was one of the most eccentric men I ever knew. His mother was a washerwoman and he lived in her tub, except on wash days, when she had to use it to make a living for him. Although he gets a good deal of credit nowadays for having lived in a tub, he didn't at the time of it. The neighbors used to call him a lazy, shiftless fellow, lolling around in a tub, talking philosophy to a lot of other good-for-nothings instead of working for a living.

A good deal has been said about his go-

A good deal has been said about his going around the streets of Athens with a lantern "to find a man." I saw him at the time. He wanted to find a man that would that has been preserved, was when he said: "If I could live Alexander the Great, I had rather Di-ogenes!"

Columbus was a mild, sweet-dispositioned, but exceedingly thoughtful boy, as as I remember him at school. When we boys were out playing, he would sit and weep for hours over the incompleteness weep for hours over the incompleteness of the maps of the period. He felt as though something was wanting. He wasn't satisfied with three-quarters of a globe, such as was employed in the schools at that time. He pined for the other quarter. I recollect his borrowing a quarter of me on two or three occasions.

has been appointed Judge of the Circuit He used to tell us we were a continent out, somewhere, and that when he got big enough he meant to run way from home, moted to the Wisconsin Supreme Court go on the canal and discover it; but we only laughed at him, little thinking he The following named Fenians arrived would yet give his name to the capital of Ohio. steamer Russia: David Mulcahy, Thos.

I lost all traces of Christopher until years afterward, when the telegraph brought the announcement of his having dis-covered America, which, up to that time, had successfully eluded the most per-sistent efforts of our best discoverers.— Cincinnati Times.

Cheese as a Wholesome Food.

CHEESE, when properly manufactured, contains, in a condensed form, nearly all the solid nutritive portions of milk, and of course in about the same proportion as they exist in that fluid, and we would be County, Ohio, and editor of the Buckeye State, died suddenly on the afternoon of the 26th, as he entered the State House, of hemorrhage of the lungs.

House of Representatives from Columbiana County, Ohio, and we would be fully warranted in expecting that it is highly nutricious, had we no other knowledge of that fact except thus reasoning from analogy.

Some one at my elbow asks the question will characteristic and the state of the control of the lungs.

tion, will cheese, like milk, sustain the an-imal economy without any other food? Whether it would sustain the life, health, and strength of a human being, for an un-limited period, like milk, I do not know from experience, but I do know from exdictment. He waived arraignment and perience that it will sustain the animal economy in mice and rats for months, A New York dispatch of the 25th says it is stated on apparently good authority of a number of witnesses, the court said doubt, would sustain a human being just that there was not the slightest foundation as well.

for the prosecution, and the jury gave a Our best American cheese contains about one-fourth part of its weight in water, the balance consisting almost entirely of the elements of nutrition in a peculiarly concentrated form, and precisely adapted to the process of digestion, be cause, in the manufacture of cheese, the Gov. Holden filed his answer to the articles | process and agencies are precisely the same of impeachment. The answer is a very voluminous document, and covers at least 200 pages of foolscap. The Managers retain, as counsel, ex-Governor Bragg, ex-Governor Graham, and H. S. Merriman.

Governor Holden retains as counsel, H. H. the coagulation, a preparation for diges-tion of milk, in its natural or unmanufac-Badger, Hon. Nathaniel Boyd, and J. M tured state.

Compared with almost all other kinds of food, the superiority of cheese is mani-The Democrats have nominated John Kendrick, of Waterbury, for Member of fest; for instance, meat or bread not only congress in the Second Connecticut. Dis. Congress in the Second Connecticut Disomach, they require to be further broken down and manipulated by the action of 24th elected Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, United States Senator, by joint ballot, 42, tion; hence it is, that cheese is a health-United States Senator, by joint ballot, 42, ful and proper article of food for persons of weak and debilitated constitutions, such against 22 for Governor Randolph. Six members of the House and one Senator were absent.

The Massachusetts Woman's Suffrage
Convention assembled at Boston on the mer complaint, and the reason, I think, must be obvious; the stomach is saved one The impeachment of Judge James T.

Magbee before the Florida Legislature half the usual amount of labor, and rest is always better than medicine to the invalid, and thus from merely being allowed to rest, and at the same time assimilate sufficient nutriment, and that of the best The Republican Executive Committee character, for the suport of the physical of Montgomery County, Ohio, have desystem, a return to health is a m termined to discontinue the proceedings course. in the contest with Campbell for the seat Cheese then must be a wholesome article of food and highly nutrious, and of the in the next Congress from the Third Dis-, ing as it does the same, and nearly all the nutritive elements of the milk of which it has been elected United States Senator by consider the economy of its use as an article of daily food.

The Connecticut Republican Conven-The daily food of a majority of our peo-ple consists of mea, vegetables, bread and fruits; in other words, meat, and vegetion, in session at New Haven on the 25th, renominated all of the present State offitables, and milk, and has been so from almost time immemorial; cheese, it is true, has to a limited extent comprised one of The Pennsylvania Republican State Convention is to be held in Harrisburg on Convention is to be held in Harrisburg on Leading the 10th of Morch Lywill pominate can the 10th of March. It will nominate can food.

Americans are very much in the habit of didates for Auditor and Supervisor General consuming a large amount of meat, espe-cially the flesh of swine, and a great many tables are rarely set at all for a meal with recently held at Springfield, formed a breakfast, and meat for dlinner always, and frequently for supper; in vain are we told too much meat; as a people we never heed the warning until dyspepsia, rheumatism, and gout, compel us to listen to the dictates of reason and common sense. * * From an examination of market reports some years past, I find the average price of choicest cuts of fresh meat, more especially beef, has been fully equal to the price of cheese per pound at retail, and in many inordinary good beef has ranged from one to three, and even as much as five cents, above the price of good factory cheese, and furthermore that this period of high priced meat and low priced cheese, usually occurs every season during the hot weather, just when fresh meats are considered most unhealthy, and when cheese would be a more suitable article of diet, on the score of health Here we have the conclusion of the whole atter: cheese is more conducive to health than meat, being a more natural as well as a of nutrition, costing but half as much as stitutes a part of nearly every meal of the people of this country, I think the proposi-

Ohio Farmer. Preservation of Boots and Shoes.

tion that " cheese is a wholesome, nutritious, and economical article of food," is fully and clearly established.-Corresponden

THE extreme heat in which most men and women expose boots and shoes during winter deprives leather of its vitality, ren dering it liable to break and crack. leather becomes so warm as to give off the smell of leather, it is singed. Close rubber shoes also destroy the life of leather.
All varnishes and all blacking containing the properties of varnish avoided. Shoe leather is great Persons know nothing or care less about the kind of material used than about the polish produced. Vitrol blacking is used until every particle of oil in the leather is destroyed. To remedy this abuse the leather should be washed once a month with warm water; and when about half dry, a coat of oil and tallow should be applied, and the boots set aside for a day or two. This will renew the elasticity and life of the leather, and when thus used the

-What Business to Enter Upon.-A Young man who says he is about to enter upon business for himself, does not know what to do. He does not like farming, but thinks he would like to be a mechanic if that is as profitable. Asks what he shall do. We answer, do that which you think you like and can do best. Decide; go to work and struggle to excel; be honest, work and struggle to excel; be honest, faithful, industrious and economical, and you will find one business as profitable as the other. It does not depend so much upon the kind of business whether you succeed or not, as it does upon yourself .-

peage only laughed, and said they were making Much Ado About Nothing, adding, Rural New Yorker. "you can have it As You Like it."

He was fond of the ladies, and popular —The business of one Boston milk